SHOT BY A SOLDIER.

Another echo of the Jeffries-Johnson fight comes from the Aqueduct bridge. Three colored men and two soldiers, who were in uniform, met on the bridge at 10:40 o'clock last night, and one of the former, William L. Smith, 39 years old, of Rosslyn, Alexandria county, was shot through the abdomen. Without waiting to see the result of their shooting, the soldiers fled, leaving the wounded man to the care of his two companions. Smith was taken to a dying condition to the Georgetown University Hospital, Washington. The fight was ostensibly without provocation other than the strong racial feeling accentuated by the Jeffries-Johnson fight at Reno and the stabbing of Private Frank D. Scott, of Fort Meyer, on a street car on the night of July 4. Smith said that he and his friends were walking toward the Virginia end of the bridge, when they met the soldiers, who were walking toward Washington. One of the soldiers shouted: "Hey you black—!" Smith returned the compliment. With this brief interchange of words, the soldier who had done the talking advanced toward the colored men. With his clenched fist he struck Smith in the mouth and knocked him down. As he fell the soldier whipped out a revolver and shot him. "If you want a dose, I'll fix you, too," the soldier is quoted as addressing Smith's companions before he pocketed the weapon and ran toward Virginia with his friend.

Little hope was given today for the recovery of Smith. Washington police were sent to Fort Meyer and went through the barracks again and again. A good many soldiers were absent on leave and as they returned the police questioned and searched them. So far as is known no clew was found. Today every soldier answered his name at roll call so that it is certain that the soldier who did the shooting is now in the ranks at Fort Meyer.

CLUBMEN ANTICIPATE GREAT DAY AT MARSHALL HALL.

The Cardinal Athletic Club of this city will give their annual excursion to Marshall Hall tomorrow. The committee in charge have arranged to have a base ball game in the afternoon between the Cardinals and Linworth A. C. of Washington. This is the first time these two teams have met this season and Zachary or Tronary will be on the firing line, while Peterson will be on the receiving end. After the evening boat arrives there will be a drawing contest for $100 and a $25 suit of clothes, judging from the number of tickets sold there will be a large crowd. Tickets can be obtained from any member or at the wharf.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jennie Kramer took place from St. Mary's Church this morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Father Cullender officiated. The pallbearers were Messrs. James Roche, W. H. Sweeney, Frank Latham, Joseph Delaney, Wm. D. Smith and M. R. Norris.

DEATH OF LIEUTENANT SMITH.

Lieutenant James Smith, who during the past few weeks had been confined to his home on north Fairfax street by illness, died shortly after eleven o'clock this morning. The deceased leaves a widow and four children—Mr. Frank Smith, Mrs. Elsie Reed, and Misses Laura and Emma Smith.
Lieutenant Smith was a son of the late John L. and Mary Smith, and was born in Alexandria about 65 years ago. In early life he was associated with his father in the shoe business, but upon the organization of the present police force in 1870 he became a member, his father having been chosen lieutenant. He later resigned his position, but was re-elected a member of the force a year or two later, and upon the death of his father, about a quarter of a century ago, he was elected lieutenant of police by the City Council, a position he had since held. As might have been expected, the deceased passed through some thrilling scenes as a conservator of the peace during his forty years of service. Fearless and active he was ever ready to perform his duty. During the past few years it was realized by the many friends and acquaintances of Lieutenant Smith that he had seen his best days and that his natural vigor was abating. He had previously passed through a terrible experience with a malignant carbuncle. A slight stroke of paralysis followed and later organic disease developed. He persisted in reporting for duty and remained at his post as long as possible. The news of his death will be read with regret by his many friends and acquaintances and his sorrowing family will have their earnest sympathy. The deceased recently united with the Second Presbyterian Church.

C., a Virginia corporation and which some time since was placed in the hands of a receiver upon the rights of "paid up stockholders" and "installment stockholders." The suit involves a large amount of money in the distribution of the assets of the association. The installment stockholders are represented by Mr. R. D. Brumback, the paid-up stockholders by Messrs. G. L. Booth and Robinson Moncre, and the receiver by Mr. S. G. Brent.

PIANO AND MUSIC STORE ON KING STREET.

The Sanders and Stayman Company through its president, Mr. George B. Kennedy, have leased the building No. 612 King street, where they will open a branch store within the next few days. The building is now being fitted out for the reception of the finest stock of pianos, organs and musical instruments ever exhibited in Alexandria, which will include the world-famous Weber, the piano used by such great artists as Paderewski and Rosenthal, the Stock, Ivers and Pond, Wheelock, Stuyvesant, Howard and Estey pianos, Estey organs, for the home, church, chapel and lodges. Also a full line of pianolas. The Steinway piano-piano, Weber piano-piano, Steck piano-piano, Wheelock piano-piano, Stuyvesant piano-piano and Chilton Oriola pianos last named are the finest production of modern piano building, the piano, the greatest self-playing instrument in the world being built inside of them, and they can be used either by the finest pianists or by a child five years old—up to the oldest person—without any knowledge of music. It is also the purpose of this company to carry a full line of sheet music, music books and violins; guitars, mandolins, banjos, cello and strings of all kinds. A full line of Victor talking machines and records, in fact, "everything in the music line." Sanders and Stayman were established in Baltimore in 1867, and opened a branch store in Washington, D. C., in 1880, and at one time had a branch store in Richmond. Mr. Kennedy has been with the concern since 1893, and just recently purchased the Washington branch, which territory covers the greater part of the state of Virginia, the District of Columbia and several counties in Maryland. They have enjoyed a good patronage from Alexandria but, since the discontinuance of the ferry, find it rather expensive to haul pianos over the road as it requires four skilled men to handle a piano and a half day is consumed in making one delivery to Alexandria. The greater part of this expense will be obviated by shipping the piano direct from the factory which, together with the increased business, will enable them to save considerably to the consumer. The Alexandria store will be in charge of Mr. John M. Reed, a popular and courteous Alexandrian, and Mr. Kennedy will give all the time he can spare to the Washington store. The date of opening will be announced through the advertising columns of the Gazette.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The mercury at noon today registered 80 degrees.

SUIT.

Suit has been instituted in the Circuit Court for Fairfax county by the Kentucky and Alabama heirs of the late Miss Anne S. Frobel, through Mr. E. B. Taylor, attorney, for the sale of the farm just west of this city known as Wilton Hill and which has been in the Froel family for upwards of one hundred years.

SWANSON WILL BE SENATOR.

Governor Mann said Monday morning that he may or may not have definitely determined upon the exact date upon which he would make public his choice in the matter of his selection of a United States senator to succeed the late John W. Daniel, of Lynchburg, but that this appointment will be made within the ensuing two weeks is scarcely doubted and that the choice will fall upon former Governor Claude A. Swanson is a foregone conclusion. The unexpected term of the late senator from Virginia terminates March 3, 1911. As the senatorial primary election comes up in Virginia next summer, it is altogether probable that the appointment of Swanson will be ratified by the popular vote before the second Wednesday in January 1912, when the session of the next legislature will begin, in which the election of the senator will be finally made.—[Richmond News Leader.]

SHOT IN SHIP'S BOTTOM.

After being imprisoned in the cellular double bottom of the battleship Connecticut in the navy yard in Brooklyn for about twelve hours, A. Wyrick, an ordinary seaman on the ship, is at the naval hospital, on Flushing avenue, recovering from the effects of fumes of paint which he had inhaled.

Wyrick was at work in the compartments on Saturday afternoon, cleaning and painting. His companions answered the mess call at supper time, but his absence was overlooked until he failed to answer when "lights out" time came, and men were sent into the spaces between the outer and inner shells of the ship to find him. He was thought to be dead when a companion found him senseless in a newly painted compartment, but vigorous work when he was dragged from his cramped quarters and brought on deck resulted in some sign of life.

Wyrick's case was made doubly serious by the closing of the manhole in the inner shell, through which he entered the space between that and the outer plating, leaving him with no fresh air to counteract the fumes of new paint.

KILLED BY A RATTLER.

John R. Simons, 50 years old, widower, with no children, died at 3 o'clock yesterday morning in Delmar township, Pa., from a bite of a rattlesnake, sustained Saturday afternoon.

With a companion, he went out on Cobble Hill where the huckleberries are thick. They saw a big rattler, which retreated into its hole in a ledge of rocks. Anxious, however, to kill the reptile on account of the myriad of berry-pickers, many of whom are barefoot children, who work daily on this spot, Simons got a stick and tried to dislodge the reptile.

He was prodding the hole, when suddenly, before he could draw back his left hand, the snake ran up the stick and bit him squarely twice back of the thumb, and in the excitement the snake escaped to its hole.

Placing to torque about the wound and twisting it tight, Simons hurried to Dr. Gentry, at Stony Ford, which place he reached an hour after the mishap. His arm was swathed in bandages and pain was excruciating. The wound was opened and bled freely, cauterized, antitoxins injected and stimulants administered, but to no avail. Simons was removed to his home, and became partially deaf, then totally so. His sight gradually went the way of the departed sense, and when the poison reached his heart it stopped beating.

The President at Eastport.

Eastport, Me., July 19.—For the first time in its history Eastport, today entertained the President of the United States. For hours before the Mayflower, flying the presidential flag, was sighted, residents of the surrounding country poured into the city and sought out points of vantage where they could see and incidentally cheer when the noted visitor arrived.

STRIKE SYMPATHIZER SHOT.

Riding up to the store of Morris Cohen, at Edna Mines, Westmoreland county, Pa., Monday, four men, alleged to be deputy sheriffs in charge of a portion of the Irwin coal field, where a strike is in progress and where serious rioting has occurred, entered the store, shooting right and left. They shot Mr. Cohen in the right leg, struck his wife, who received a fracture of the right arm during the struggle, and then one of the men threw the three-weeks-old twins out of their crib on the floor. Before leaving and while the four victims of the assault were lying on the floor unconscious, the men completely wrecked the store, breaking showcases and throwing the goods from the shelves to the floor and into the street. The two babies and the mother are in a serious condition, and the authorities are making an investigation. Sunday afternoon the auto containing the four men passed Cohen's store where a number of striking miners were standing about in front of it. The strikers were determined to open fire on the deputies, but Cohen prevented this. Riding away, one of the deputies threatened they would shoot Cohen for interfering. It is alleged Cohen is in sympathy with the strikers.
